A LETTER FROM THE PROGRAMME COORDINATOR PROF. PAOLA MOLINO

Dear Students,

Welcome to the University of Padua and to the Mobility Studies Programme!

We are delighted to welcome students joining us from many different parts of the world, and we are just as excited as you are about the beginning of a new academic year and the opportunities, encounters and experiences it will bring.

Getting to know and understand how a foreign university works is never easy, and we are here to help you navigate this new system. To make your transition as smooth as possible, it is essential that you carefully read the information contained in this Welcome Kit, as well as all communications you receive from our programme secretariat at cdl.mobilitystudies@unipd.it

Every academic year is special for us, but this year is particularly significant because it will be the final year in which Mobility Studies is offered as a curriculum within the current degree programme in Historical Sciences. Starting from next academic year, Mobility Studies will become a degree programme in its own right, and a number of courses will either change their names or no longer be offered in their current form.

For this reason, it is important that you carefully follow the recommendations below and in case of doubts you contact me. If the following courses are included in your study plan, we strongly recommend that you attend them during this academic year, either in the first or second semester:

1. Ideas and Cultures in Motion (Prof. Biasiori)
2. Communication and Media in History (Prof. Salmaso)
3. History of Tourism (Prof. Valseriati)
4. Transport History
5. Data Visualization (Prof. Orlandi)
6. The two workshops of your choice

These courses will not be offered in the same form next academic year. However, if you attend a course this year but are unable to take or pass the exam, you will still be able to sit the exam next year.

Please note that the Mobility Studies timetable is designed to avoid clashes between classes. However, timetable clashes may occasionally occur when a course is offered by a different department. In such cases, you can usually choose to attend that particular course in the following academic year (not in the following semester, as courses at the University of Padua are normally offered only once per academic year), or choose another course from the same group in the following semester. Given the specificity of this year, I signalised here below the following timetable clashes and the choices you could do, in case you'd like to include both courses in your study plan:

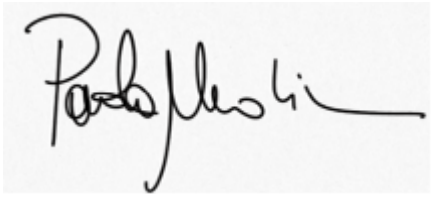
1. Mondays and Tuesdays, 10:30–12:30: Data Visualization (Prof. Orlandi) and Work, Migration and Globalization (Prof. Vianello). We recommend postponing Prof. Vianello's course to the first semester of next academic year.
2. Mondays and Tuesdays, 16:30–18:00: Global Economy in Historical Perspective (Prof. Lorenzo Mechi) and Demography and Migration (Prof. Irene Barbiera). We recommend postponing Global Economy in Historical Perspective to the first semester of next academic year.
3. Thursdays at 13:30: there is a short overlap between Prof. Biasiori's Ideas and Cultures in Motion and Prof. Giunta's Qualitative Research Methodology. The two professors have agreed to coordinate their schedules so that you will be able to attend both classes. As for

History of Eurasia (Prof. Pianciola), you may postpone this course to next academic year.

4. Fridays at 10:30: Prof. Molino's Archives and Libraries on the Move overlaps with Prof. Vianello's Work, Migration and Globalization. However, the latter course is taught online and will be recorded, so students will be able to watch the recording afterwards.

As every year, we strongly encourage you to plan your studies carefully and to contact us if you have any doubts regarding your study plan or timetable.

Best wishes,



Paola Molino
Coordinator, MA Mobility Studies

MOBILITY STUDIES PADUA MAP

We have created a useful map for Mobility Studies students, you can check it up every time you need to find the University's buildings or other services in the city.
It will be updated during the first semester, so if you cannot find what you are looking for, just send us your feedback and help improve it for your current and future colleagues!

USEFUL INFORMATION – platforms and resources

MOODLE PLATFORM

You can access our Moodle e-learning platform with your Single Sign On credentials (received at the time of enrolment).
The Programme's main Moodle page will give you some useful information on how to navigate Unipd as a student. Each course unit will have an independent Moodle page where professors upload materials, exercises, readings.
2026 Moodle pages will be progressively available, stay tuned and remember to sign in.

ANNEXES

In order to fill in your personal Study Plan, you must follow Annex 2 and combine it with one of the study tracks outlined in Annex 3 that you find on the Course Catalogue platform.
Annex 2 and 3 for Mobility Studies Students 2026 is "Coorte 2026" + "Curriculum 001PD"

AFFLUENCES

The Affluences app offers a real-time view into the availability and study space occupancy at each University of Padua library and updates occupancy rates every 60 seconds, so students do not waste time finding the perfect place to study.
Those looking for University libraries for the first time, especially first-year students, can easily locate them (see also Mobility Studies map) and find updated information and opening hours from their mobile phones using a simple and clear interface. The Affluences app also provides a booking system to reserve a single seat or a room for group study.
For all information regarding the University of Padua Library System (both online and on campus), please visit their website.

LECTURE SCHEDULE

Lecture Schedule (web agenda) is available through the Agenda Web platform.
Your schedule may vary. Please check your web agenda frequently.

EDUCATIONAL OFFER

The Master's degree in Mobility Studies provides 120 CFUs over two years.

Students are advised to take approximately 30 CFU each semester, i.e. to take no more than 5 courses per semester in the first year, and take the internship, and the remaining examinations in the second year.

For reasons relating to visa, scholarships, etc., international students are generally advised to plan their international mobility (Erasmus for studies, Erasmus for traineeship) in the second semester of the second year, before graduation.

Every student must choose one of the study tracks outlined in Annex 3:

- Study track 1: Mobilities across space
- Study track 2: Mobilities across time

USEFUL INFORMATION - Study Plan

A study plan is a detailed overview of activities to be completed to achieve your degree.

For the academic year 2025/26, students are allowed to fill in their study plan from November 1, 2025, to September 30, 2026. The study plan can be modified during the above-mentioned period and no later than the submission of the graduation application.

The Master's Degree Programme offers students two automatically approved study plans:

- Study track 1 – Mobilities Across Space
- Study track 2 – Mobilities Across Time

To compile the study plan you must login to your personal area the UNIWEB website, click on the "Teaching" section and then on "Study Plan".

By following the guided compilation process, students must select the compulsory educational activities and the elective educational activities as specified in the 'Annex 3'.

For a guide to how to fill it in consult the online manual on the following link.

Please note that courses offered outside the University of Padua cannot be taken as free choice credits.

Free choice credits

For both tracks, as for the free choice credits, students have the following options, depending on the subject in which they plan to write their master's degree thesis. Other choices must be discussed with the thesis supervisor.

Students writing their thesis in Migration in World History (Prof. Pianciola), choose one course from the first group and one from the second group (please note that this is the teaching offer of this year, but might change next year):

Group 1: Citizenship and diversity

Gender EU Politics and Globalisation (Prof. Lorenza Perini)

Work, Migration and Globalization (Prof. Francesca Alice Vianello)

European and Global Citizenships (Prof. Guido Gorgoni)

Contemporary Racisms (Prof. Annalisa Maria Frisina)

Group 2: Area histories (according to the area studied)

International History of the Balkans (Prof. Benedetto Zaccaria)

Afro-Asian Mobilities: Experts, Pilgrims, Diplomats (Prof. Remi Dewière)

Russia and Eastern Europe from the Post-War Period to Nowadays (Prof. Giovanni Cadioli)

History of Eurasia (Prof. Niccolò Pianciola)

Students writing their thesis in Ideas and Cultures in Motion (Prof. Biasiori), choose the following exams:

History of Early Modern Europe (Prof. Molino, held in Italian with possibility of an English Programme)

Renaissance Italian Literature (Prof.Tomasi, held in Italian)

Students writing their thesis in Museums, Collections, Heritage (Prof. Canadelli) must insert in their study plan the workshop "Digital Cultural Heritage" and then can choose the following exams

Storia culturale della scienza (Prof. Elena Canadelli, held in Italian with possibility of an English Programme)

Management and valorization of cultural heritage (Prof. Gilberto Artioli)

Comunicazione e museologia delle scienze naturali (Prof. Elena Canadelli, held in Italian with possibility of an English Programme, please note that this course corresponds to 12 ECTS)

Students writing their thesis in Demography and Migration (Prof. Barbiera) are advised to insert in their study plan the workshop "Electronic Sheets for Historians" and then can choose the following exams or any other exams in the group of the Social Sciences

Social Demography (TBA)

Work, Migration and Globalization (Prof. Francesca Alice Vianello)

Migration governance and politics (mod. B) (Profss. Claudia Padovani e Andrea Pettrachin)

Students writing their thesis in Space, Place and Mobility (Prof. Rabbiosi) are advised to take the exam Urban Mobilities as free choice credit and add one of the following exams:

Geographical Space: Concepts, Tools and Practice (Prof. Mariasole Pepa)

Social and Political Tourism Geographies (Prof. Chiara Rabbiosi)

Students writing their thesis in Cultural Encounters (Prof. Milicia) choose the following exams:

Contemporary Racism (Prof. Annalisa Maria Frisina)

Community, Locality and Cultural Heritage (Prof. Milicia)

Students writing their thesis in Big Data and Social Network Analysis (Prof. Zilio) choose 12 ECTS among the following exams:

Databases and Data Processing (Prof. Nicola Orio)

Smart Technologies for Sustainable Tourism (Prof. Daniel Zilio, held in Italian with possibility of an English Programme)

Students writing their thesis in Archives and Libraries on the Move or Texts on the Move (Proff. Paola Molino and Ottavia Mazzon) choose 12 ECTS among the following exams:

Archival Science (Advanced) (Prof. Brogi, held in Italian with possibility of an English Programme)

Management and valorization of cultural heritage (Prof. Gilberto Artioli)

Digital Storytelling (Prof. Marco Malvestio)

Students writing their thesis in Politics and Institutions on the Move (Prof. Giovanni Florio) choose 12 ECTS among the following exams:

History of Early Modern Europe (Prof. Molino, held in Italian with possibility of an English Programme)

Comparative History of Political Systems (Prof. Giovanni Florio, help in Italian with possibility of an English Programme)

Power and Law in Early Modern Europe (Prof. Viggiano, held in Italian with possibility of an English Programme)

Students writing their thesis in Work, Migration and Globalization, Sociology of Ideas and Intellectuals, Gender EU Politics and Globalization, Economic Globalization and Human Rights, European and Global Citizenships, Global Economy in Historical Perspective, will add the other exams in the same group to their study plan. For example, students writing the thesis in “Work Migration and Globalization” may add either “Sociology of Ideas and Intellectuals” or “Cultural Encounter” (depending on their first choice) and either “Global Economy in Historical Perspective” or “Economic Globalization and Human Rights depending on their first choice.

CURRICULAR INTERNSHIP

The curricular internship is a mandatory activity within the master's degree in Historical Sciences. The internship consists of 6 CFU credits, corresponding to a minimum of 150 hours.

The internship can be carried out starting from the second year of the masters programme:

- externally, within a host institution, on topics consistent with the study plan (schools, libraries, archives, museums, study centers, associations, etc.);
- in the University of Padua, in our centers, museums and laboratories;
- in the DiSSGeA, as part of projects promoted by professors of the Department;
- abroad, for example within the Erasmus + program for internships.

It is possible to obtain 6 CFU also through the recognition of work and/or training experiences related to the contents of the master's degree carried out while enrolled. The request for recognition and authorization of work and/or training activities must be submitted in advance to the Internships and Traineeships referent for the master's degree in Historical Sciences (prof. Elena Canadelli). The request for recognition of work/civil service must then be submitted to the Career Service Office (Alessandra Lighezzolo), using a specific form to be requested by email from the Office itself.

Students are advised to plan the internship activity in time and to monitor the deadlines for document submission.

Looking for an internship

Visit the showcase of University offers for Italy, or for abroad, or within the Erasmus + program for internships. If you are interested in an internship within the University or the DiSSGeA in particular, please check the Mobility Studies internship opportunities (dynamic link).

Check your contacts and ask to open an agreement or reach out to your professors.

Starting an internship

As it is shown in the University Career Service page (https://www.unipd.it/stage), in order to start an internship, an agreement, a safety training course and a training project are required. They will be necessary also for the activation procedures.
The activities and goals of the internship training plan are established in agreement with the academic tutor (teacher of the degree course) and the company tutor (the person who follows the student in the host institution). For internships carried out within the University, the two figures may coincide.
Please note that this procedure is mandatory in order to properly start the activity, including for insurance matters.

Finishing the internship

At the end of the internship, and at least one week before signing in for the exam via Uniweb, the student must submit the following documents to the University Career Service (Dr. Alessandra Lighezzolo)

- Attendance report;
- Company tutor certification;
- Short report by the student on the activity carried out (max 1 page)

The documents will be checked and signed by the head of the University's Career Service.

Registering the internship

The student must sign in for the “Stage e tirocini” exam call during the regular periods via Uniweb. It is not necessary to physically show up for the exam, but the above mentioned documents must be submitted within 3 days prior to the exam to Prof. Elena Canadelli, Internships and Traineeships referent.
Without the documents and/or the exam, it will not be possible to proceed with the registration of the 6 credits.

Double Degree with Lancaster University (UK)

Each year, up to four Mobility Studies students may be eligible for the double degree programme with Lancaster University (UK). Lancaster's CeMoRe – Centre for Mobilities Research, founded in 2003, played a pioneering role in the development of the new mobilities paradigm and, following years of fruitful academic collaboration, became an important point of reference for the establishment of the Centre for Advanced Studies in Mobility & Humanities (MoHu) at the University of Padua.

Selected students who successfully complete the programme at both universities will be awarded a Master's degree in Historical Sciences – Mobility Studies from the University of Padua and either an MSc in Social Research or an MA in English Literature from Lancaster University.

The double degree in Mobility & Humanities represents a unique opportunity for students seeking high-profile interdisciplinary education at two distinguished institutions, thus becoming experts trained in historical and cultural studies, ready to engage in contemporary political and social action.

After spending their first year at their home university, students will proceed to the partner institution for the second year, benefitting there from a full fee-waiver.

Specific instructions and more information about the application process will be provided in a dedicated Moodle section
