ABOUT ME

Jenna Cooley

- Applied Sciences to Cultural Heritage Materials and Sites
- B.A. in Anthropology, B.A. in Experimental Psychology, and a minor in Health Promotion, Education and Behavior
- Philadelphia, United States
- 1 year living in Padua and 6 months in Florence
- My favorite things about Padua are getting to meet students from across the world, the museums, and spritz culture

TUTOR BUDDY ROLE

Administrative & Info Support
Answer international students' questions and help them with administrative procedures upon arrival in Italy, referring them to the appropriate university offices when necessary.

Integration & Guidance
Accompany students to the University and city offices in case of need and help them integrate into university life.

Information Sharing
Share with other buddies and the coordinator useful information and good practices to improve support quality for students.
