- WHAT STUDENTS SAY

"I have done my Erasmus experience in Salamanca, Spain. I attended master's courses in Applied anthropology: health and community development. I would recommend an Erasmus experience to anyone for several reasons. It is not only about learning a new language, studying different subjects and living in a new place. Personally, I have had two Erasmus experiences in my life and they were the best times of my life. I grew up humanly and academically*. I have met many people and I have learned to more independent. I learned two foreign languages and how to do academic research.*
Erasmus experiences were fundamental to understand myself and what I want to do in my life."
Francesca, Universidad de Salamanca, 2020/2021

- WHAT STUDENTS SAY

"In Salamanca, in particular, I had the opportunity to study anthropology, a subject I have always wanted to study. Since I studied international cooperation, I want to specialize myself in anthropological research for development and the master's I followed in Spain gave me the opportunity to do so*. For example, I learned to do ethnographic research, an activity that I can mention in my professional CV. I also learned Spanish, a very important language in the field of development cooperation.*
Moreover, since I would like to do academic research in the future, it was very interesting for me to observe how this activity is carried out in foreign universities.
Furthermore, during these months I have met some very stimulating professors and classmates, with whom I have built knowledge and created a network that will be useful for my academic and working future*."*
Francesca, Universidad de Salamanca, 2020/2021

- WHAT STUDENTS SAY

"My first Erasmus experience in Groningen has been incredible.
Even if in a strange period, I have felt privileged as a student to still have a possibility to spend time abroad and experienced a study program in a different context and country.
I met a lot of people from all over the world and with them share incredible experiences. I have been able to react and to be resilient to a not favourable situation for living an absolutely enriching experiences under all the important social and academic aspects".

Davide, University of Groningen, 2020/2021

- WHAT STUDENTS SAY

"University of Groningen has been a great challenge for me. The level of university is high and the courses and programmes have been really demanding. I have enjoyed all the lectures, presentations and papers that I had to do, to attend and so on. The methodology of teaching and the attention to details are the keys of this University. I have enhanced my level of English, my capacity of research and the uses of analytical tools and empirical data.

I had very motivated and professional professors, willing to teach and to interact with students. They have been the firsts to propose us and to explain how to use the tools and the methods delivered in class for a future job application. Following their advices and their suggestions I am applying for several Internships possibilities*."*

Davide, University of Groningen, 2020/2021

CHOOSING YOUR DESTINATION WISELY:

- You can choose only among the Universities which have an agreement with our Department
- Pay attention to the field of study of the agreement
- You can only apply for Universities which accept Master students (Study Cycle 2)
- Please verify that you meet the language requirements of the University
- Competition is high, take it into consideration the course catalogues of smaller universities, too, and remember that Erasmus is a great experience even if spent in a small city.

- HOW TO CHOOSE COURSE UNITS AS AN OUTGOING ERASMUS STUDENT

- Local Development students generally spend their 2nd year abroad through an Erasmus exchange
- Students have to carefully plan a Learning Agreement that will substitute the 2nd year study plan they would have otherwise attended in Padua
- In case students want to attend a course unit planned for the 1st year, this shall be exactly matching with the one that would have been attended in Padua
- In case students want to attend abroad course units that differ significantly with the Local Development study plan, these will be marked as elective course units (for a maximum of 9 credits)
- Professors in charge of validating students' Learning Agreements and Transcripts of Record will carefully evaluate students' choices in order to grant consistency with the aims and scope of Local Development curriculum.
