

Call for Participants in a 4-day training school organized by COST Action CA19112 Albania (6-10 June 2022)

Travel and subsistence costs covered by COST Action CA19112. No participation fees.

Location: Marin Barleti University, Tirana (Albania)

Objectives of the training school

The training school will strengthen the selected trainees' competences in research methodology on women's migration. Trainees will learn through intensive training, lectures, interactive group classes, group work projects, working with top researchers and experts in collaboration with local stakeholders.

The training school will acquaint trainees with various aspects of research. Sessions will be tailored for the two groups of participants, M.A. and PhD students, in the following way:

- For Master's students, training sessions will include classes in storytelling, biography and life writing. Students will also be acquainted with the research techniques of interviewing and oral history. Training will include both qualitative and quantitative research methods.
- PhD candidates will receive training in creating databases from experts in the field. They will also gain insights in writing research grant proposals.

Trainees will work in tutored groups towards final tasks to be presented in the last session. Awards will be given.

Participants in the training school will not be awarded ECTS nor other credit points. They will nonetheless be given a training completion certificate in the end of the training school; they will gain a valuable experience which could be added to the academic CV. Participation will also increase trainees' visibility on WEMov and COST websites. The event will be an excellent opportunity for the trainees to network and strengthen international cooperation as well as to gain experience in collaborating with stakeholders relevant to their field of studies.

Last but not least, this will be an exciting occasion to learn about the Balkans, the local history, culture and the migration nexus.

a. Class schedules

During the training school trainees will be tutored by 9 experts in the field of 'research on migration of women' working with you throughout the week.

Daily schedule will be as follows:

Mornings: 9-10am lectures

Midday: 10-12am: interactive group classes

Afternoons: 2-5pm visits and tutored project works

A social programme will be included.

b. Costs reimbursed

Trainees will be reimbursed for their long-distance travel expenses in line with the eligibility rules specified by COST, and set at a maximum of 300€ by the Management Committee of COST Action CA19112. In addition, the reimbursement of the daily allowance rate is 170€/day for Albania, which covers the incurred accommodation, meals, and local travel expenses. Trainees are advised to contract a travel cancellation insurance for all their long-distance travel. Cancellation insurance is an eligible expense reimbursed by COST. The participants will be reimbursed after the meeting and given a list of hotels and all necessary information to participate in the training school.
